that the basis for the complainant's charge of such offense is:

Complainant is an Assistant District Attorney with the Brown County District Attorney's Office and knows of the above offense on information and belief based upon:

1. His review of the details of Officer Dakota House of the Oneida Police Department whom he has relied upon in the past and always found to be truthful and reliable; said details indicate that on October 29, 1999 at approximately 2:13 a.m., Officer House was dispatched to St. Mary's Hospital in Green Bay in reference to a domestic violence complaint. Officer House arrived at St. Mary's Hospital and met with a female who identified herself as Teata Decorah. Officer House observed Ms. Decorah lying in the hospital bed and that she was pregnant. He later learned that she was approximately eight months pregnant. Officer House observed that she had a redness under her left eye area and he asked her what happened. At first she said that nothing happened but then admitted that her boyfriend, Brandon Stevens, and her got into an argument and that he shoved her. She admitted that he was drinking the night of the incident. She indicated the two reside at 2766 Vestco Court, City of Green Bay, Brown County, Wisconsin and that this shoving incident took place there earlier on October 28, 1999 at approximately 3:00 p.m. She then became uncooperative and would not give any further information to Officer House.

2. His review of a statement given by Rachel Baird to Officer House on October 29, 1999; in said statement, Ms. Baird indicated that she is a nurse on the maternity ward at St. Mary's Hospital. She stated that on October 29, 1999, a twenty-two year old woman, later identified as Teata Decorah, was admitted to the Family Birthing Center from the Emergency Room with complaints of spotting and cramping. Baird stated that Decorah is thirty-four weeks pregnant. Decorah stated to Baird that there was something she needed to talk to her about. She informed Baird "My boyfriend hit me last night". Decorah then lifted up her short sleeved shirt and showed Ms. Baird bruised arms. Baird noticed that Decorah's arms were bruised with four to five finger sized bruises on each upper arm including the biceps and triceps. Decorah stated that her boyfriend, the defendant, Brandon Stevens, grabbed her by the face, hit her head on the driveway, and pointed to the back left side of her head. She also stated her face was red and sore from where he grabbed her and pointed to the left side of her face on her cheekbone. Baird observed small quarter size reddened areas along with a possible bruise originating from the corner of her eye and extending under her left eye. Baird asked if he had struck her anyplace else and Decorah stated he hit her one or two times in the abdomen. It is noted that Decorah is approximately eight months pregnant.

Complainant believes the information received from Rachel Baird because she is a citizen witness.
