

Money spent in support of Wisconsin Supreme Court justice candidates

Three groups currently before the Supreme Court challenging the legality of the "John Doe" investigation also spent heavily in efforts to elect the court's four-member conservative majority. These groups spent no money boosting the candidacies of the other three justices.

Annette Ziegler

Elected 2007

$2.6 million

Michael Gableman

Elected 2008

$2.2 million

David Prosser

Re-elected 2011

$2.6 million

Pat Roggensack

Re-elected 2013

$850,000

NOTE: Top and bottom figures do not match due to rounding.