

Bernie Lafferty: Yeah. They said they killed him and then one of them said he was a black man and, and I was just like trying; you know I just, I; well you know they trusted me, I was there so they knew I wasn't, you know. But emm, and they just talked and I remember them talking about, you know, shooting him and then they said, they said, 'Well we buried him up -'; and if I remember right they said they buried him up like on the hill or something, on a hillside or something, and emm, they said, 'Well no one will ever find him, you know. No one's going to miss him.' And they was just talking like that and I don't remember why they, you know, I; I don't know if there was like a fight or argument, or something you know that he wouldn't do, or something. And anyway, he wasn't co-operating with them so they said they just emm killed him and they buried him. And by, you know by then I was going back into the kitchen and I thought - I kind of felt real funny, you know, like in my chest or something because I thought you know, they couldn't have really did that you know I was thinking, because you can't just do that to people, you know.

Serle Chapman: About what time of day was it - do you remember?

Bernie Lafferty: It was, it was in the evening. If that's - as best as I can remember it was in the evening. You know, it was like already dark out.

Serle Chapman: Okay.

Bernie Lafferty: But then that could have been like even earlier because then, you know, it was like winter time; it gets dark early.

Serle Chapman: So who was in the room?

Bernie Lafferty: Emm, I think probably pretty much everybody you said; that we named before that usually went to the meetings. I don't know, I'm not sure if Henry Wawasick was there then because he would like, he; for some reason he would leave and then like walk out and then come back with like more weapons or people and stuff like that. So I can't say definitely if he was there or not, but I remember Carter and Dennis, Russ, emm Stan Holder, Dave; and I, you know, I can't really say who else but the usual people were there.

Serle Chapman: Was Clyde in there when you were serving this coffee and having this conversation about killing the black guy?

Bernie Lafferty: Emm. I'm not real sure if he was or not.

Serle Chapman: But definitely - definitely in the room participating in the discussion about killing the black guy and burying him, was Dennis Banks, Carter Camp, Russ Means, Stan Holder and David Hill?

Bernie Lafferty: Uh huh (yes).

Serle Chapman: And what about Crow Dog, was he in there?

Bernie Lafferty: Yeah, I'm pretty sure he was in there.
