

Letters & Opinions...

Corruption

The Oneida Nations of Wisconsin has been disgraced by the decision to mislabel its ill-advised trash incineration project "Green Bay Renewable Energy," despite the fact that "renewable energy" means natural resources that cannot be depleted such as solar, wind, water or geothermal power.

Clearly, trash incineration is NOT "renewable energy" since the supposed objective is to diminish stock piles which should instead be reused and recycled, as well as wisely avoided in the first place.

Was the woeful choice of a misleading misnomer merely mindless, or was it Machiavellian?

Some People worship the money, but should we therefore call our casino a "Native American Church"?

People of conscience must oppose this odious corruption of language and leadership by insisting that candor prevail over a pattern of chicanery.

Sincerely,
Leah Sue Dodge