John,

Greetings, I hope that you are doing well. Attached is a copy of my completed Performance Appraisal Form. I would have had it to your earlier in the week, yet Monday was taken up with the Personnel Self-Evaluation project and all of Tuesday was spent with Bill Moon on-boarding. I was also able to get Michelle Schenandoah's email, phone, calendar, drive and CRM set up during a two-hour training this morning.

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Nikishna was able to drive insight at the project level to solve the respective challenge the client is facing (e.g. Island Enterprises & Cahuilla). Nikishna was able to assist in managing outstanding client relations through all communication outlets (e.g. eBlasts, printed publications, conference booth staffing, etc.). He also analyzed data related to weekly and ongoing business development activities to inform new workflow processes for Blue Stone. Nikishna implemented an improved method of coordinating resources and appointments for Blue Stone projects, conferences and business development activities, (regionally and nationally). Nikishna has consistently produced high quality documents, graphics, and presentations as needed including final presentations and case studies.

Nikishna participates on project teams, providing all levels of support from coordination, documenting processes and meetings, and gathering necessary resources as they pertain to his area of expertise and beyond via new research & training. He has assisted in data compilation and analysis, and performed due diligence, interviews and other data gathering exercises to support project development.

SECTION 2: Completion of Annual Goals – Specific Goals for Year      Were:

Goal #1

Research, Select, Implement and Train on the 19 Blue Stone core IT needs, as referenced in the Blue Stone IT needs proposal from April of 2014. An overall Blue Stone IT vision and ecosystem has resulted from this effort.

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

All 19 elements have been delivered in record time for such a large and complicated Information Technology overhaul undertaking. Not only were all 19 items completed, but under-budget as compared to the three cost estimates from outside companies to do subsets of the outlined IT needs workplan. Additionally, an overall IT vision and fully integrated strategy was developed and continues to be implemented which collapses the number of separate IT services into just three major service suites (Google Apps for Business, custom vTiger CRM, and Blue Stone private Cloud-Server). These three services suites create our Blue Stone IT ecosystem. Also, new computing systems have increased security and are reducing downtime.

Goal #2

Overall Marketing vision, material development, project management and delivery.

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Nikishna was able to review and analyze all previously created Blue Stone marketing materials, interviewed numerous Blue Stone personnel and previous clients regarding our reputation. This data was used to focus our rebranding activities to dispell previously held concerns and rejected sterotypical imagery and concepts. The result was a full matching suite of custom designed and printed presentation folders, product offering inserts, brochures, pocket-trifolds and conference bag stuffers. Plans are already underway to revamp the conference booth setup, strategic give-away items and custom Blue stone lapel pins for a fully united marketing front. Nikishna has also launched action-oriented and consistent email marketing campaigns.

Goal #3

CRM development, corporate office setup, consolidation of files, reduction of recurring costs, and business workflow development.

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

After much research and custom computer coding, Blue Stone now has a fully-functioning Client Relationship Management system online and self-hosted. Therefore, rather than paying $3,600 per year for all of our users, we can have an unlimited number users at no additional cost. The CRM also eliminated the need to pay monthly bills for Basecamp, Mailchimp and other separate services. Moving forward, Blue Stone now has a solid foundation that can adapt and grow exponentially with new environments and situations. The Blue Stone corporate office has been rewired for ten-times faster data transfer rates and securely backs up all connected computers. Reduced reduntant tasks and improved workflows have been implemented.

SECTION 3: General Performance Requirements (Rate Each on a Scale of 1 – 5)

A. Quantity of Work - (The quantity of work produced and the promptness with which it is completed)

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Quality of work is very important to Nikishna as it is a reflection upon his performance as well as Blue Stone as a professional firm. Nikishna is able to take large projects and break them down into manageable tasks with deliverable dates. The promptness in which tasks are completed are often ahead of schedule unless delayed due to Subject Matter Expert response delays. The quality, style and appropriateness of Nikishna's writing style has been complemented by outside reviewers and strives to respect the needs of our represented Tribal communities. Additionally, the printed quality of work is professional and has been used as an example by others.

B. Quality of Work - (The ability displayed and accuracy of work produced, meeting company standards, neatness)

Employee Rating: 4 (Frequently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Although Nikishna is new to Blue Stone per se, he has jumped right into internal and external project to lend a hand and offer his expertise. For instance, due to Nikishna's recommendation and implementation of an additional application process for the Blue Stone growth recruitment process, we can now filter, search and utilize all non-selected core staff applicants as part-time Subject Matter Experts. Generally, the accuracy of work produced meets expectations, meets company standards and is always neat.

C. Knowledge of Job - (Basic knowledge and equipment necessary to do the job)

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Nikishna fully understands to parameters of his job. He consistently and proactively offers assistance to educate others on Blue Stone's new capabilities. When equipment is necessary, Nikishna conducts preliminary research and cost comparisons before bringing needs and recommendations to his supervisor. Nikishna is very knowledgeable about his own job responsibilities as well as gaining a deeper understanding of all other personnel job responsibilities in order to properly configure the CRM workflows, roles and responsibilities as well as access levels.

D. Teamwork - (Willingness and cooperativeness with co-workers and supervisors, ability to accept constructive criticism)

NP_005708

E. Adherence to Policy - (Adherence to policies and procedures)

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Nikishna adheres to Blue Stone policies and procedures on a consistent basis. Nikishna exceeds this expectation by developing new policies and procedures for other personnel to adhere to regarding proper marketing utilizations, communication standards, data entry workflows, etc.

F. Initiative - (The degree to which an employee searches out new tasks and expands abilities professionally and personally)

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Nikishna seeks out new tasks that will benefit Blue Stone as an organization, both in the short-term and in the long-term. Additionally, Nikishna expands his professional abilities by attending workshops, participating in online tutorials and reading in the Harvard Business Review articles that discuss best practices in areas of HR, Business Development, Capital Investments and Maximizing Productivity.

SECTION 4: Overall Rating (On a Scale of 1 – 5)

Employee Rating: 5 (Consistently Exceeds Standards)

Comments:

Overall, Nikishna has served as an important asset to Blue Stone Strategy Group, especially in relation to the current period of rapid growth for the firm. Nikishna brings long-term vision, technical know-how and a willingness to support the goals of Blue Stone leadership. Nikishna not only has intellectual/historical knowledge of American Indian history, laws and structures; but also has lived the experience via growing up on a reservation, attending Sherman Indian Boarding School and serving Tribal educational needs nationwide. Nikishna's breadth of technical experience, relation to Tribal communities and leadership qualities make him an excellent fit for Blue Stone Strategy Group.

SECTION 5: Recommendations for Improvement/Career Development

Employee Recommendation:

Nikishna would like to participate in more job shadowing exercises relating to overall external project management as well as participate in more Tribal Council presentations.

Comments:

Although my salary was matched in transitioning over to Blue Stone, my benefits package was not. Additionally, I have taken on a more robust role in the firm in also managing the overall IT infrastructure remotely supporting and centralizing services for employees across the country. Therefore, I am requesting a $5,000 compensation increase to my annual salary. Lastly, I am requesting an external title of Chief Technology Officer for the firm so that I can continue to negotiate lower prices on equipment and technology services. Unfortunately, the tech community does not understand the role of a Senior Strategist and requires a great deal of explaining before even starting to get down to business on the IT front. This will also serve as a tremendous asset and sign of growth for Blue Stone to have a CTO.

RE: CRM

Subject: RE: CRM
Sent: Tue, 18 Nov 2014 09:50:02 -0500

Amy & John,

The CRM is currently down because Bluehost made some changes on their end which I was working with their support team on Friday to fix. I noticed today that I now cannot access the FTP site to make the fixes in the code. Therefore, once again, I suppose I will need to request access to that as well. This really is becoming an unnecessary additional step to perform basic functions. Take care...

Amy & John,

Greetings, I hope that you are doing well. We are over here at Seminole and trying to work collaboratively in our workgroups, yet we have been experiencing significant difficulties. There are glitches that continue to arise that I could can easily fix but I have no ability to do so since I have been removed as an Admin for Google Apps. Therefore, I am requesting to be restored as a Google Apps Admin, at least until we get back to CA so that we can keep things moving over here. Thanks!

Amy,

There are a slew of items from people not being able to access their accounts, files sharing issues, Google Drive local accounts not being sync'd, etc.

Building Capacity and Diversification Crucial to Tribal Economies

About Us | Services | Contact Us

Building Capacity is Crucial to Tribal Economies

In 1977, the American Indian Policy Review Commission released its historic report, highlighting the need for increased capacity, including the education and training of a skilled local workforce in Native communities. The report acknowledged the need for Tribes to regain control of their land holdings and natural resources, especially in light of the Native consensus that self-determination is the best approach for restoring tribal economies, community improvement and sustainability.

Today, over 40 years later, the need for building capacity with a skilled, trained and educated workforce remains critical as ever to the development of human and natural resources in Indian Country in the 21st century. Tribal resources must be developed in the hard sciences, business and government administration, emergency management services, land and water resource management, law enforcement and public safety, education and workforce development, housing, communications, and healthcare and mental health, among many others.

The first major step in fulfilling your community's needs is building a Vision of the future and developing a plan for the future that will assist the Tribe in determining where you are currently and where your community wants to be in the next five, 10, 25 and planning for future generations. After all, Indian gaming is now in its fourth decade, pulling in nearly $36 billion in 2016—a staggering figure that no one could have predicted in the late 1970s. Those Tribes that planned for their own future growth as part of their gaming diversification efforts are in more stable situations than most of those that did not take the time to plan for their future capacity needs.

“Once you are in the hot seat of leadership you become so busy just meeting the day-to-day needs and demands, that many leaders find it challenging to commit to future planning for their Tribe and for the children and the children's children,” says Jamie Fullmer, Chairman and CEO of Blue Stone Strategy Group.

Leaders are challenged to think about the future knowing that they can only deal with today's initiatives and concerns and that their time is limited. It is hard to ask, “What kind of future can we envision for them when you are right in the middle for dealing with social challenges of today? What are our priorities as a community a decade from now or even 25 years from now: Is it better healthcare? More jobs? The ability to pay for higher education for all of our tribal members? A push toward renewable energy may not make any financial sense, but it could be a step in the right direction of protecting the environment and tribal sovereignty? Do we need to focus on community development in order to encourage member involvement in the planning process?

These are the questions that we have been working with our tribal clients over the last 11 years to find answers. These are questions that can help you and your leadership to develop the tribe's plans and priorities.

Additionally, says Fullmer, building a tribal economy isn't just about owning and operating businesses it is about capacity building for the community and recognizing that everything is interconnected within the entire tribal system. As an example land use planning, organizational governance, technical and management assistance, and capital investment are necessary to promote enterprise development on reservations. But that Infrastructure investment, may have direct positive impact to another area of concern that needs attention in order to improve transportation, housing, utilities, water, postal and communication systems within the community.

"All of these areas: Economic development, infrastructure, housing, healthcare and education are interrelated, so planning across the board becomes crucial. Because you can't decide to build a hotel if you don't have decent roads and utilities or a trained workforce to support its success," says Fullmer. "So you have to plan both horizontally and vertically with a Vision for the future. It may not get done overnight, but proper planning will ensure that your tribe's ventures have sustainability and consistency."

In today's economy it is imperative to go beyond gaming as the only source of revenue and take clear steps toward diversification. For tribes seeking to establish long-term sustainability, the first step in a tribe's diversification effort should be to assess the economic opportunities available to the tribe based on its particular location. by identifying your strengths and challenges and determining what your short- and long-term priorities are, followed by an achievable action plan that gets you from Point A to Point B.

There are literally hundreds of plans for economic development sitting on shelves and in file cabinets collecting dust throughout Indian Country. This is why Blue Stone's planning process has been designed to be action oriented with clear action steps and accountability built into the planning process. We do not want tribal leaders to waste their precious resources developing a plan that doesn't go anywhere and ultimately ends up on the shelf. We want Tribes to create value and see that they are able to move forward once the planning process has been completed. Plans are not meant to be set in stone but they should be forged with thoughtful attention that clearly defines the processes that can be followed and supported.

We have supported many Tribes over the last eleven years with Strategic Planning Work Sessions. These are tailored sessions that are developed specifically for your tribe. The outcome from these initial planning process is a solid baseline for developing more comprehensive plans or can be used as the Tribe's strategic plan.

Blue Stone can assist your Tribe in developing a strategic plan to help in moving forward with capacity building and economic development diversification. Planning allows tribal leaders to focus and to work toward the next stage of growth. Accountability to a plan is more empowering than waiting to react to the crisis or deal of the day.

Call us today to schedule your work session!

2011 Marketing Plan for Blue Stone Strategy Group

"Positioning Blue Stone as the premier Advisory Company in Indian Country"

The intent and purpose of this Marketing Plan is to create customer awareness of Blue Stone Strategy Group (BSSG) as a national Native American owned advisory company, and the services that Blue Stone offers. Further, it will include a marketing/sales component to solicit and procure clients to create Blue Stone Strategy Group into a successful Native American owned business.

Target Market

Blue Stone Strategy Group conducts business with only Native American Tribes. Approximately 560 tribes exist in the United States, yet there is opportunity for BSSG with other indigenous nations outside the 50 United States. This can be identified as another "region" within the Marketing and Sales Plan. Another addition to this regional concept is the Navajo Nation. Due to the size and magnitude of the government and economic development opportunities of this tribe it was sensible to identify it as a separate region for both marketing and sale advantages.

To market and manage this many tribes, and for purposes of effective project management, BSSG has developed a regional structure that includes staffing and outreach planning. A matrix has been developed to define the regions which are broken down further by States due to staff presence within specific states and will need to be clearly defined going forward and updated as BSSG grows.

This same matrix will be utilized for BSSG marketing for both the National and Regional level to maintain consistency and coordination among BSSG team members in providing quality marketing opportunities for Blue Stone Strategy Group with our Target Market to meet the goal of positioning Blue Stone as the "premier Advisor of Choice in Indian Country." The BSSG Marketing plan is also designed to work in coordination with BSSG outreach, business development and sales of services.

Can I log into the CRM app from Quick Connect? Are the 250 Tribal Leaders listed with contact phone numbers? If so, can we access them from Tiger?

I tried opening Tiger from Quick Connect but it asked if I wanted to install it. I back out. Let me know.

Thank you,

John,

Our contract only encapsulates 8 interviews to be included in one 2-4 minute overall Corporate Promo video. I asked the Alas Media people to capture additional interviews as a favor to be used for future contracted work starting next year in Q1 and using the Q1 marketing budget. Testimonial videos were not included or discussed in terms of Alas Media. I offered to create those internally as part of my Marketing duties, however, I no longer have oversight on marketing activities. Therefore, it would be up to Robert to sub-contract out those video production services. I hope this helps to provide clarity. Take care...

John,

Here is the updated IT Priority Plan that we discussed. A lot of the info was also included in the email that was sent out to all of the Blue Stone team members this morning. Have a safe and fun trip!

On another note, the flyers were printed and match our new Marketing Theme. The popup banners and flyers will be delivered to the Grand Californian under Kim's reservation. I will be at the conference Monday morning and back to the office in the afternoon to carry out IT rollout tasks. Just FYI. Take care...

Nikishna,

I have scheduled your appointment for 6/18/2014 for the 3-5 time frame for you location at:

BLUE STONE STRATEGY GROUP
SUITE 240
18851 BARDEEN AVE
IRVINE, CA 92612-1520

Just a couple of things to keep in mind for your install:

1. Please coordinate with your building management or owner if this is a commercial building and let them know we will be out there to do your install. The technician will most likely need access to the MPOE (minimum point of entry) or cable room, usually they are areas that are locked and they have keys to those areas.
2. For your install someone will need to be on site during the time frame for the installation process. Is there a phone number for the point of contact in case the technician needs to contact them?

3. Will the point of contact for the technician need a 30 minute precall?
YES

4. Technician will activate internet at location you prefer, but does not hook up equipment to the modem.

5. Technician will activate and tag telephone number in the MPOE (minimum point of entry/ phone room) from that point your wiring vendor will extend the phone number to your suite.

N/A

If porting telephone numbers and they are active at install location technician will move telephone lines from old provider to Cox equipment.

John & Amy,

FYI, two printed sample copies of all final Marketing Materials were placed on your desk on Friday for the upcoming Board Meeting. The larger custom folders will take 7-10 business days to finalize, yet everything else will be done by early next week. Finalizing these documents, CRM implementation and continuing the individualized trainings with Blue Stone team members utilized most of my time last week. I received a call last week as well to specify a quantity for the Blue Stone lapel pins (requires about 8 weeks to produce).

We were able to get out our first listserv eBlast on Tuesday and have another one scheduled to go out tomorrow morning at 7:45am in each time zone. The one scheduled for tomorrow has been plenty vetted and was reviewed by Vida. I am still working on the Marketing Plan as it requires a lot of time and research based upon Blue Stone business development processes (which are still somewhat being developed). I have held meetings with Kim, Rochelle, Janeen and have reviewed all previous Marketing Plan documents & style guides. Therefore, now that the first phase of Marketing Materials are completed, there is more clarity on design elements and direction from which to launch a proper Marketing Plan. I did, however, put together a Blue Stone regionalized map visual, based upon the list provided by Rochelle in April. It will be important for thinking about what, how, where, when and why we market/cater our services to each of these regions in our Marketing Plan.

Here is a list of eBlast Topics, with proposed schedule:

- "Blue Stone is here to Help!" (7/15/14)
- "Blue Stone is Hiring!" (7/21/14)
- "Building an Optimal Tribal Government" (8/4/14)
- "Tribal Economy & Economic Diversification" (8/18/14)

I have also attached a copy of the IT Status Update. There is a lot to update on this topic, yet I tried to keep it to high level topics that effect front-end Blue Stone business processes. I have attached the original IT request proposal as well for your reference. After the next month, we should not need to refer back to the original proposal because we will have implemented all requested features. We have done a great deal of technological advancement in a very short period of time...we should all feel very proud as an organization. I am happy that our IT vision is already being looked at as a cost-effective and efficient model.

To: Amy Watson <awatson@bluestonestrategy.com>, John Mooers <jmoors@bluestonestrategy.com>, Jamie Fullmer <jfullmer@bluestonestrategy.com>

John, Jamie & Amy,

Quick, yet important update regarding our email marketing. We have been using MailChimp to send out our eBlasts and we should continue to do so. Although our CRM can and will do more specific client/potential client email marketing, MailChimp has advanced features, such as the ability to schedule mass emails to be delivered based upon the recipient's time zone.

I have combined all five of the previous lists into one Master List, yet retained their segmented nature through groups. Therefore, there was no data lost and we can still send to each of those old list groups if we need to. However, there were thousands of overlapping contacts, which increased our per month cost and was redundant. Moving forward, we will reduce our recurring cost for MailChimp by $60-$75 per month because our actual UNDUPLICATED list size is 3,803 unique contacts and is under free plan. This took some time to think through and consolidate, yet it will make a BIG difference moving forward and will allow us to provided more targeted marketing. Take care...

To: Bill Moon <bmoon@bluestonestrategy.com>

Bill,

Good morning, I have finished the eBlast newsletter and scheduled it to go out this morning directing visitors to our new website. In order for the new site to show up, I needed to change the DNS settings with Bluehost and wait (up to four hours) for the new settings to propagate throughout the world wide domain servers, then set our Blue Stone server to receive the new traffic. I wanted to make sure that everything was working before going to sleep so that the launch and eBlast went smoothly. As of this writing, most servers have picked up the new settings, so we should not have any domain issues for the launch.

I am very tired now from staying up late the night before for Lummi, traveling back and then going right into the website finalization and eBlast setup. Therefore, I will not be coming in until the afternoon, yet I will be able to participate in the 11am Seminole call. Hope all goes well. Take care...

Subject: RE: IT Meeting Today
To: John Mooers <jmooers@bluestonestrategy.com>
Cc: Amy Watson <awatson@bluestonestrategy.com>

John,

Greetings, I hope that you are doing well and the trip is successful! I wanted to take a moment to recap the IT meeting today and express some concerns.

I gave Eldad a quick overview of our IT infrastructure and rationale for hardware and software acquisitions. He requested administrative login credentials for all of our equipment as a backup to Amy's backup; which was provided. There was also some conversation about regular meetings as well as the potential for Eldad to provide technical support moving forward. This is of great concern for me because a great deal of time was required to repair the patchwork of "fixes" that Eldad administered over the years. The email migration has not been as smooth as it should have been due to computer settings not being properly configured. The building IT manager kicked us off of the internet because Eldad illegally connected Blue Stone onto the Crestline Funding system with the wrong settings, which created a security breach for them. Additionally, people were not able to do basic functions like add a printer because Eldad set them up incorrectly. Quite simply, I don't know Eldad, he seemed like a nice person and may have supported Blue Stone immediate needs in the past. Yet the quality of technical work in the past hindered Blue Stone's scalability, created legal liabilities and his direct involvement threatens the long-term stability of our IT Infrastructure. There are plenty of qualified on-demand support technicians that we utilize, if there is a need for additional IT support.

With this said, I feel the need to request some clarity of purpose for the meeting today with Eldad. I was under the impression that the meeting was to glean any pertinent information/usernames/passwords/settings FROM Eldad, yet he stated his instructions were the exact opposite. Therefore, I must ask if you or other staff do not have faith in me or my abilities. Bringing Eldad back implies that I am not doing something correctly and represents a step backwards for the firm, in my opinion. I look forward to a future discussion when time permits. Thanks and take care...

MEMORANDUM

TO: Board of Directors
FROM: National Project Manager (Bill Moon)
DATE: October 23, 2014

RE: NIKISHNA POLEQUAPTAWE

1. Issues

a. Below Expectation in Job Performance

- Nikishna's performance on marketing and IT infrastructure has below expectation for the past two months
- He has been consistently late in delivering quality final products on timelines and deadlines agreed in advance
  - Examples on marketing front include eBlasts, direct mailers and new web site
  - Examples on IT infrastructure include documentation of IT architecture, systems topology, and security
- He requires a lot of guidance and close supervision in producing quality work products
  - While he is conceptual, he needs a lot of guidance in producing detailed work
  - He is not strong in synthesizing and organizing sparse and disparate information into logical whole and supporting detail
  - He needed to have each page of the new web site walk through and be shown the many things that required rework
- His sub-par performance is affecting the implementation of marketing strategy, particularly during Q4 buying season, as well as putting in place the required measures to minimize risk in IT environment
  - Initial observation is that he is inexperienced in fully understanding what is required for the job to be done as well as significantly under estimating the time requirement to finish
  - On a positive attribute, he is eager and desires to do the right things for the firm; but in the process of wanting to demonstrate his support to improve the company's infrastructure to a higher level, he has over-committed himself and got involved in too many areas all at once which set himself with a huge workload
  - Began a dialog to better understand the root causes for his consistent late delivery and lower than expected work quality

b. Concern for Work Commitment

- He desires to be more focused on project work which we agree is the right direction for his career growth
- However, his commitment to client facing project work comes with serious limitation on time requirements

NP_006179

GER 228<sup>Exhibit 146</sup>
1 of 2

- He is open and willing to work out of town and travel but require off-setting time off for evening hours spent away from home
- For instance, if he travels for job related work leaving on Sunday evening and returns on Friday evening, he needs to take a day off the following week to compensate for his evening time away from home
- He has insinuated that he has the legal right to such compensating time off

2. HR Advice

a. Consultation with Jacob Bouie

- A combination of his sub-par performance for his level and his implication of legal rights prompted a long conversation with Jacob Bouie
- Jacob Bouie agrees with the potential contributing factors stemming from his prior work experience and his qualifications, for example:
  - Academic environment, no corporate world experience
  - Lower work demand/expectation because job was non-core, was more ancillary in nature to the University
  - “one-man” show with no strong guidance from seasoned professionals
- Sr. Strategist is an exempt position
  - He has never heard of such time off-set requests in his career
  - He is not aware of any company/industry providing or allowing such time off-set
  - There is no such time off-set legal requirements

b. Jacob’s Recommendation

- Document his work history with Blue Stone and his work performance level thoroughly
- Document position requirements and expectations in great detail
- Conduct a non-emotional discussion session with the said senior strategist regarding the position and company requirement for the role

3. Next Steps

a. Planned Steps

- Follow HR’s advice
- Create detailed documentation
- Hold a discussion session
